

PREHISTORY CHILDRENS BOOKS

Wiltshire Museum have the below Prehistory books available to purchase through their shop, they have proved popular sellers and are very useful resources:

	Why were Mammoths Woolly? Find out why mammoths wore a woolly coat and loads of other prehistoric facts in this great book of first questions and answers. Easy-to-read text makes this book ideal for young readers, while cartoons and quizzes keep learning fun and interactive.	£5.99		The First Drawing In 1994, the Cave of Chauvet-Pont-d'Arc was discovered, filled with the oldest known drawings in existence at that time, made 30,000 years ago. In that same cave, prehistoric footprints were discovered: those of an 8-year-old child and a wolf. From these astonishing facts, THE FIRST DRAWING was born.	£12.99
	Ug - Boy Genius of the Stone Age Ug and his parents are living in the Stone Age. And that means stone blankets, stone cold food, an even colder cave and, worst of all, hard stone trousers! Being an inquisitive and intelligent child, Ug suggests a series of modifications to improve the quality of family life. His ideas about heating, cooking, boats, and balls that actually bounce are met with a hostile reaction by his parents who don't know what he's going on about. Even Ug himself is occasionally unsure of the purpose of his inventions - his round stone that rolls down the hill is great, but what is it actually for?	£6.99		Hands on History - Stone Age Travel back two million years to discover fascinating facts about the life of Stone Age people - where they lived, what they ate, and what they looked like. Marvel at the fine tools and weapons they made, and at their survival alongside creatures such as mammoths. This title features 15 easy and fun projects that enable you to re-create the past - build a shelter from clay mammoth bones, paint your own cave art, make Stone Age hunting tools such as a bow and arrow, fashion a leopard's tooth necklace, prepare a prehistoric meal, model a clay pot, and construct a miniature stonehenge. It is ideal for home or school use.	£7.99
	The Secrets of Stonehenge With captions and pictures, and using up-to-the-minute research discoveries, Mick Manning and Brita Granström tell the incredible true story of this awe-inspiring monument - one of the greatest ancient sites in the world.	£9.99		The British Museum - Mammoth Activity Book of Prehistory The fourth title in the series of shaped, die-cut activity books from the British Museum focuses on the animals and people of the Stone Age. It includes games, puzzles, and drawing, colouring and making activities. They are fun to do and full of information about peoples and places of the past.	£2.99
	Cave Baby A hairy mammoth takes a cheeky little baby on a thrilling ride through a moonlit landscape populated by a sabre-toothed tiger, a leaping hare, a laughing hyena and even, just maybe, by a big brown bear . . . But where are they going? And what has it to do with the baby's scribbles on the cave wall!	£6.99		The Amazing pop-up Stonehenge Who built Stonehenge? How and when was it built? And why? This book, aimed at the inquisitive child (and adult), looks at these questions and, with the aid of innovative paper technology, attempts to answer them. This book shows how the massive stone blocks were transported and erected by our distant ancestors over 4,000 years ago, and tries to explain what the site was used for and why they put so much effort into building it. Written by TV archaeologist and Stonehenge expert Julian Richards, this unique book is an excellent starting point for anyone interested in this mysterious and magnificent monument.	£9.99
